

CARDI BROTHERS SHARE HOLIDAY CHEER AT WILLIAM SCOTT'S CHRISTMAS PARTY

For over three years, William Scott has been an employee at Cardi's Furniture store on Quaker Lane in West Warwick, RI. When you see the shiny clean floors, chairs neatly arranged around dining room sets, and sparkling windows and mirrors throughout the showroom, you are enjoying some of William's handi-work.

William is a satisfied employee. Besides liking his job, what stands out for William is how great it is to work with everyone at Cardi's. "It's a really nice group of people."

This past December when William threw a Christmas party for friends, family and colleagues, among his guests were Ron and Pete Cardi, who along with their brother Nick are the owners of Cardi's Furniture. The Cardi brothers are well known throughout Rhode Island and Southeastern Massachusetts for their creative television commercials, commitment to the community, and their personalized promise of quality service symbolized by the now familiar phrase taken from the first two letters of each brother's name: NI-RO-PE.
