

The John E. Fogarty Foundation Supports Computer & Online Access

In response to people's interest in participating more fully in the digital world, The John E. Fogarty Foundation has awarded $3,000 to Looking Upwards towards computer access and mentoring.

Five computers have been purchased for individuals to use in their homes. The computers allow people to access entertainment and information online, learn through specific educational software, stay connected with family and friends, and enjoy artistic and musical expression.

We'd like to extend our thanks to the John E. Fogarty Foundation for making this initiative possible.

William Buckley (left) and Jeff Williams create a digital photo album.